

how to find out how many corporate bonds you hold

As an issuer and a public-interest entity, maib does not maintain the register of its own securities. The record of bondholders is kept by the Central Securities Depository (DCU). Accordingly, up-to-date information on the number of bonds you hold can be obtained directly from DCU by requesting a securities account statement, following the steps below.

1

STEP 1

choose how to obtain the information

In person — at the DCU office

In person or through a representative, with an ID document / power of attorney.
57/1 Bănulescu-Bodoni St., floor 1, Chişinău · 09:00–12:00 and 13:00–15:00 (Mon–Fri)

Online — by e-mail

Send the electronically signed request to servicii@dcu.md.

By post — by letter

Send the request to the DCU office.

2

STEP 2

complete the request form

Download the request form and complete it, stating:

- full name
- IDNP (personal code)
- type of statement (simple or global)
- issuance term (1 or 3 business days)

3

STEP 3

submit the request and pay the fee

Submit the completed and signed request to DCU via the chosen method. A fee applies for issuing the statement:

Simple statement

Information on a single securities account.

FEE

MDL 10 · 3 business days

MDL 25 · 1 business day

Global statement

Information on all accounts — useful if you hold bonds from several issues, kept in different accounts.

FEE

MDL 25 · 3 business days

MDL 50 · 1 business day

No fee applies to pensioners, persons with disabilities, or participants in military actions.

Paying the fee: For online requests, DCU reviews the request and sends the applicant an MPay payment notice by e-mail for payment. For in-person requests, the applicant may pay the fee directly at the DCU office at the time of the request.

STEP 4

receive the statement

You will receive the statement via the requested channel within 1 or 3 business days. The statement confirms the number of bonds you hold.
